IDIOMS

Match the expressions with the meanings:

1. break up

2. dress up

3. out of control

4. take off something

5. end up

6. be about to do something

A. to remove something, especially clothes / zdjąć

B. to be going to happen or do something very soon / mieć właśnie coś zrobić

C. to put on formal clothes for a special occasion / wystroić się

D. to finally be in a particular place or situation / skończyć

E. if you do this with your boyfriend, girlfriend, husband, or wife, your relationship with that person ends / zerwać

F. no longer possible to manage / poza kontrolą

IDIOMS

Now check the meaning in the sentences:

1. Tully: I'm not getting any younger, and Chad loves me.

Kate: Half the time you guys are together you're breaking up.

Tully: The other half is pretty great.

2. Kate: I'm all dressed up for our date later tonight. That's why I put this on.

Mutt: You did your hair all pretty. I gotta get a shot of this.

3. Tully: Carol is driving me insane. Ever since you left, she's out of control. She thinks she's Barbara fucking Walters.

4. Kate: This is a nightmare. I can never leave. I live in the bathroom now.

Tully: Take off your pants.

Kate: You and me to walk down the hall in my bloody underwear with toilet paper shoved in it?

Tully: No. You can wear mine.

5. Mark: How does a guy like you end up with a woman like that?

6. Johnny: He's dead. We got stopped at a checkpoint. Paramilitary guards shot him, and dumped his body in a mass grave full of other dissidents.

Mutt: Holy shit.

Johnny: I'm about to call the station manager. Get a crew down there. We have to tell this story, man. People need to know what's happening.

E. to be touching someone in a sexual way everywhere on their body / dobierać się do kogoś

F. used to tell someone to stop criticizing you / dać komuś spokój

IDIOMS

Now check the meaning in the sentences:

1. Tully: Don't act like I'm the only weirdo here. You're the one who gets off sneaking around with your student, Professor Wiley.

Chad: You haven't been my student in a long time.

2. Kate: You can't keep doing this. You are pregnant. I know you don't want to deal, but not dealing is not how we're gonna deal.

Tully: I fully plan to deal with it... some other time. Now get off my back.

3. Tully: You look like Susan Dey. You know, I saw Josh Meyer drooling over you when you walked by.

4. Carol: Also, I'm pretty sure Mutt and Kate had sex on your desk. That's what I've heard. They're all over each other. It's unseemly.

5. Tully: Your parents are...

Max: Yeah. Sickeningly in love, right? I know.

Tully: No, it's beautiful. You're lucky to have grown up with an example like that.

Max: Yeah, it sucks. I'll never measure up.

6. Mutt: Would you come home with me? Not necessarily to do anything. We could just talk or watch TV. I just don't want this night to end.

Kate: The thing is I have this friend who's going through a thing, and I just really feel like maybe I should go check in on them. Rain check?
