E. to be doing something / robić coś

F. to return something to the person who gave it to you / oddać coś

IDIOMS

Now check the meaning in the sentences:

1. Cloud: You own the stage. Use it! Make the audience follow you, steal their attention and don't give it back.

Tully: Okay...

2. Tully: I need to be perfect tomorrow. If I'm gonna be the next Jean Enersen, I need to be able to memorize lines, enunciate, and you know, somehow captivate an audience. But make it look easy all at the same time. God, you know, that's how the best ones do it. Effortless. I need to be able to own the stage. I need to be able to steal their attention and not give it back.

3. Tully: It's not your fault. It's Cloud. This is what she does. She's like the villain in a horror movie, like Freddy Krueger. She always comes back just in time to ruin your life with her bullshit.

4. Tully: 'Cause we're here, and I just... I have things I want to tell her.

Kate: She's not gonna give you what you're looking for.

Tully: You don't know that! A lot can change in two years. Plus, I'm up to some pretty amazing shit.

5. Kate: Oh, don't worry, baby. She'll settle somewhere and she'll reach out, then you can tell her everything. And she'll be really proud.

Tully: Yeah. For sure.

6. Johnny: This is gold, Tull. Keep it coming.

Tully: The clerk is attempting to open up the safe.
