E. refuse to accept the case / odrzucać coś

Now check the meanings in the sentences:

1.

Man: Your Honor, this case should be thrown out. Other than her story, the plaintiff doesn't have one piece of evidence.

Harvey: Because the evidence lies within their personnel files, which they're conveniently refusing to hand over.

2.

Mr. Dockery: Nice to finally meet you. Jessica says you're going to sweep me off my feet.

Harvey: I'll do my best, Mr. Dockery.

3.

Woman: That was one mistake. Those records were supposed to be sealed.

Man: So when you say those records were sealed, what you mean to say is you thought you could get away with a lie.

Woman: No, that's not it. You're making it seem different than it is.

Man: I'm sorry. You were arrested in your past and you lied about it here under oath.

4.

Mike: Would you admit it? You care about me. I saw you smile when I showed up for work this morning.

Harvey: I didn't smile. I was thinking of a funny joke.

PHRASAL VERBS IDOMS

D. to risk something / ryzykować

E. to behave in a way that is intended to attract attention or admiration, and that other people often find annoying / popisywać się

F. to make a mistake, or to spoil something / nawalić

Now check the meanings in the sentences:

1.

Mike: You have an office? How do you have an office and I have a cubicle?

Rachel: Like you said, I'm the best researcher in the firm.

Mike: Really? Well, I just made that up. I didn't even have time to talk to Donna.

2.

Rachel: You wouldn't even know where to look without me.

Mike: You know what nobody likes? Nobody likes a show-off.

3.

Harvey: I'm glad to see that staying up all night doesn't make you act like a complete idiot. Now, go home and get some sleep.

4.

Harvey: I'm glad to see that staying up all night doesn't make you act like a complete idiot. Now, go home and get some sleep.

5.

Mike: It's either that or have Louis Litt fire me.

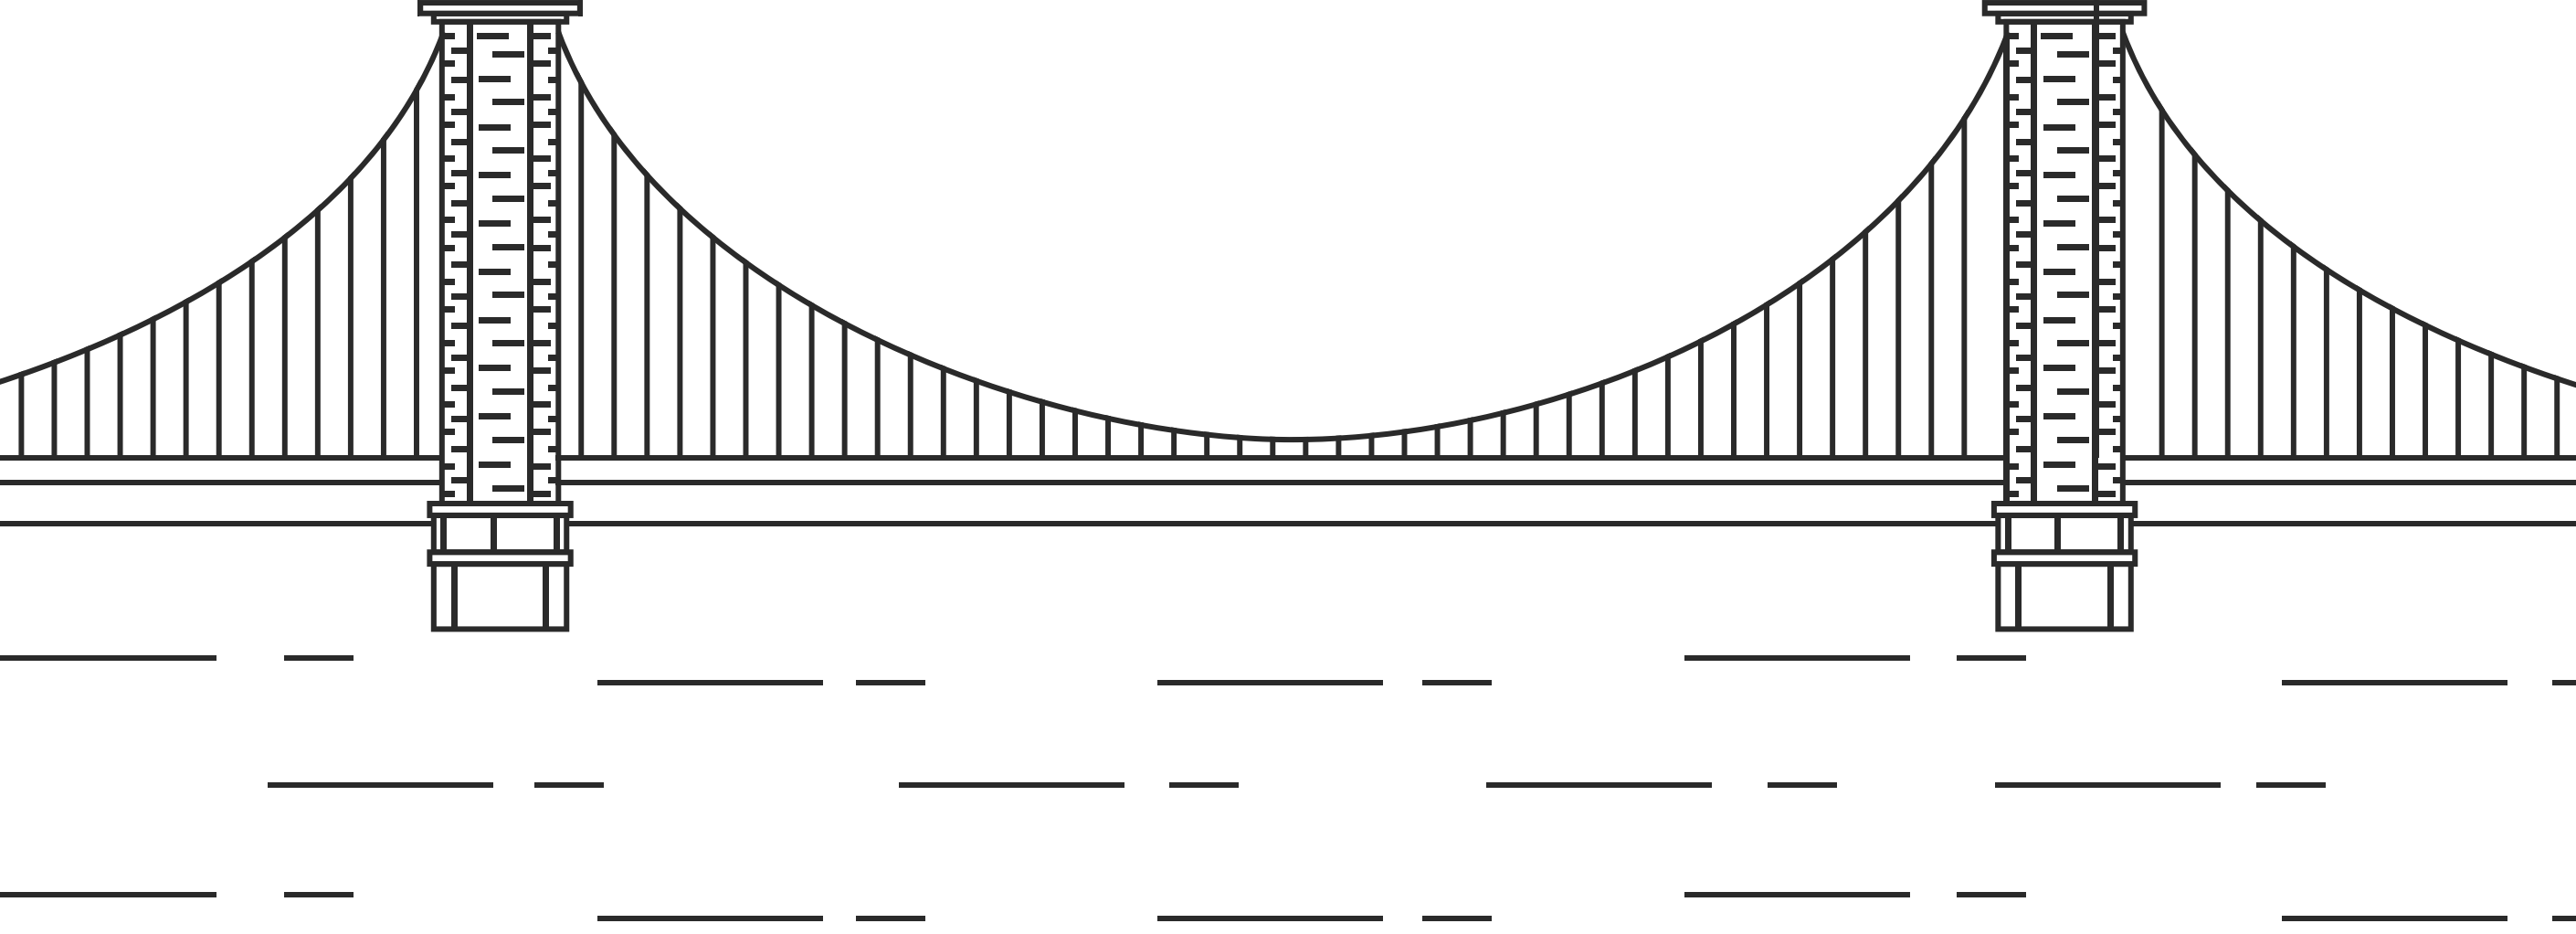

Harvey: What are you talking about?

Mike: My first day, Louis fired Gary Lipsky for screwing up a case. He said if I did the same thing, I'd be gone just as fast.

6.

Mike: Does your job include giving a damn about me? Because the least you could do is offer to stand up to Louis for me.

Harvey: Stand up for you? I put my ass on the line for you.
